This concludes the configuration using the configuration files and the system.

The configuration build process is described in Section 11.1. The `make` command will build the system. A build configuration file, which is a text file, is used to build the system. The build process will use the configuration file. For example, when building the system, the following command will be used:

/ onfigure --source sas000 --target ougar

states that any provisions which differ from this Agreement are offered by that contributor alone and not by any other party; and it states that source code for the Program is available from such contributor, and informs licensees how to obtain it in a reasonable manner on or through a medium customarily used for software exchange

When the Program is made available in source code form

a) it must be made available under this Agreement; and

b) a copy of this Agreement must be included with each copy of the Program

Contributors may not remove or alter any copyright notices contained within the Program

Each contributor must identify itself as the originator of its contribution, if any, in a manner that reasonably allows subsequent licensees to identify the originator of the contribution

COMMERCIAL DISTRIBUTION

Commercial distributors of software may accept certain responsibilities with respect to end users, business partners
